2012 VSU CHASE FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP BREAKDOWN

HOT OFF THE PRESS! Lookie lookie! Dale Reynolds (the man you all love to hate...lol) back here yet again for yet another championship discussion! We got done predicting the NuffWorld Pure-Sim championship a few nights ago. So today I am going to go ahead and do a championship break down of the 2012 NuffWorld VSU Cup Series championship. Chuck Garcia gave me the permission to do it (thank you Chuck) because he's done the championship or chase breakdowns as of recently. So I promise to give you as good a breakdown as Chuck would! So lets get to it shall we!

Coming up this week is race 9 of 10 for the VSU Cup Series chase; Phoenix. Phoenix is a very fun track after it's re-configuration and I expect a pretty wild race, being that it will be the first time out for about 50% of the guys racing on Saturday. Those of us who ran either in the RSN truck race this past week, or those who ran the NuffWorld Pure-Sim race last night, they may have an idea of what to expect over those who havent seen the track in race competition yet.
